TOLLS FIGHT NOW TO FORE

Repeal Bills Up In House And Senate.

Bryan to Explain Treaty Giving Fortification Rights With Nicaragua.

Washington, March 15.—Open debate on repeal of the toll exemption clause of the Panama Canal Act will begin late this week in the House, and a vote in that body on the Sims bill, to carry out the recommendations of President Wilson, is expected by Saturday night.

In the Senate an earnest effort will be made by Administration leaders to pave the way for early action on the issue by bringing it squarely before the Committee on Inter-oceanic Canals for consideration and report by the time the House has disposed of the subject.

Opposing forces in both houses are arrayed for the fight, the prospect being that the champions of toll exemption for American coastwise ships will lose when the roll calls have been taken in both houses. Representatives Adamson and Sims, in charge of the repeal forces in the House, are only doubtful as to the size of the majority their cause will have. They predict that it will be large, while Majority Leader Underwood and some of the Democrats who agree with him that it is an economic mistake to reverse the Nation's policy regarding canal tolls, insist that the vote will be close.

In the Senate, the return of Senator O'Gorman, chairman of the Committee on Inter-oceanic Canals, is awaited with interest in view of the fact that Senator Owen, a majority member of the committee, has introduced a bill similar to the Sims bill for the purpose of expediting settlement of the controversy as soon as possible. Senator Owen seeks to have the committee take the repeal bill up at once and pass upon it.

That the vote in committee will be close is certain and opponents of the repeal insist the majority will vote against the President's plea. In that event, there will be a minority report upon which the controversy in the Senate will hinge. Ailing Senator Owen in leading the Administration forces will be Senators Hoke Smith, of Georgia, and James, of Kentucky. Various polls of the Senate on the repeal question have indicated that the President will be sustained by a majority of from ten to twenty votes.

Another matter included in the foreign relations of the Government which it is planned to undertake this week for consideration is the pending treaty with Nicaragua, negotiated by the Taft Administration, which the present Administration is to have amended and ratified as soon as possible.

The Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate expects Secretary of State Bryan to appear for an explanation of the Administration's desires relating to the treaty which is designed primarily for acquisition by the United States of Nicaraguan canal rights and rights to naval station sites in the Bay of Fonseca in exchange for a payment of $3,000,000 in gold.

By the terms of the treaty, as originally framed, Nicaragua would grant in perpetuity to the United States the exclusive rights for an interoceanic canal thru the San Juan River and the Great Lake of Nicaragua, or by way of any other route over Nicaraguan territory. Article 2 of the treaty proposes that "in order to facilitate the protection of the Panama Canal" and the rights contemplated in Nicaragua, Nicaragua shall lease to the United States for ninety-nine years the Great Corn and Little Corn Islands in the Caribbean Sea and rights to a naval base on the Gulf of Fonseca.

Early in the present Administration Secretary Bryan proposed to the Senate committee that the treaty be amended in such a way that the United States would secure virtual control of Nicaragua thru a protectorate similar to that exercised over Cuba. He would add to the treaty features similar to the "Platt amendment" relating to Cuba. To this proposal there was considerable opposition in the committee, and it is expected to be revised now.

McCombs Declines Position.

Albany, N. Y., March 16.—William F. McCombs, chairman of the National Democratic committee, has declined Governor Glynn's offer of nomination to a position on the First District Public Service commission. The reason given was that he desired to practice law. McCombs has been active in the furthering of the governor's reorganization plans for the Democratic party in this State, and has been regarded as the personal representative of President Wilson.

The Stratfords Coming.

The Stratfords, musicians and expert entertainers and the last of the present season's Hartford College Lyceum attractions, will appear at the College next Wednesday night, March 25.

The fact that this company was coached and instructed by Elias Day is a great feature in its favor.

The greatest good fortune that can come to any lyceum company is to be organized and coached by Elias Day. For years he has given his great coaching ability to the production of the best in the lyceum, both in music and entertainment. He has been especially fortunate in selecting the members of this company. Each is well adapted to the place he fills. As a company they are talented and versatile.

The program will be of interest to the whole audience. Whether vocal music, instrumental music, or entertainment is preferred, no one will be disappointed. There is variety and quality to satisfy every demand.

CARRANZA MISSING MORE THAN WEEK

Probably Wants To Know Villas Attitude Toward Him.

Douglas, Ariz., March 16.—General Carranza, "first chief" of the Constitutionalists has not been heard from since he left Agua Prieta last week. He was expected to reach Onitla Pass between Sonora and Chihuahua States today. In the meantime there are many unconfirmed rumors about Carranza. Carranza intends to camp in the mountains and remain out of communication with the border until he learns of Villa's attitude toward him. He is also said to be desirous of keeping out of touch with the United States for a time.

Nogales, Ariz., March 16.—On account of alleged lack of sympathy personally with General Carranza, Ricardo Gayou, Constitutional consul here, to-day was summarily dismissed. He will be suspended by E. V. Anaya, of Tucson.

This is the latest development in the anti-Carranza plot which is said to have been formed here recently. Gayou said he supported the cause of Villa, not the man, and it was reported that Carranza might join with Carranza's opponents.

Manuel Bonillas, ex-minister of Fomento in the rebel provisional cabinet was liberated to-day. He and Alberto Pena, former Mexican senator, were arrested Saturday charged with conspiring against Carranza. Pena was not released.

Opposition to Carranza is developing, and it is said here and reported that only his friends are allowed to hold office.

MISS FANNIE EVANS PLUNGES TO DEATH

Daughter of U. S. District Judge Falls From Window.

Louisville, Ky., March 16.—Miss Fannie Louise Evans, 38, only daughter of Judge Walter Evans, of the United States District Court, plunged to instant death at 8:05 o'clock yesterday morning from a third story window in the Wessinger-Gaubert apartments, to the concrete pavement 30 feet below.

The body was picked up a few seconds later by residents of the building who witnessed the fall. The body, clad in night clothing, was crushed by impact on the paving and the neck was broken. According to Dr. Ellis Duncan death was instantaneous.

Although several persons saw the fall of the body, no one witnessed the plunge from the window. Among the first to reach her side was J. Lithgow Smith, of the Fidelity and Columbia Trust company, who has apartments in the building. Dr. Cuthbert Thompson was summoned but when he arrived life was extinct. A small crucifix was found beside the body.

Judge Evans was notified of the tragedy by Mr. Smith. He is prostrated with grief.

She had been in a nervous condition for about two years. During the last few days her condition had been worse than usual. Allie G. Ronald, clerk of the Federal court, who acted as spokesman for the family said Miss Evans faints twice Friday night and in falling cut her arm in two places.

Miss Evans, who has always been delicate in health, according to her intimates, had suffered from nervous trouble ever since the death of her mother many years ago.

For the last two years, however, friends say, since she underwent an operation for appendicitis, her condition has been more serious.

Thursday afternoon, however, she seemed much better. Friends, who met her at a reception, congratulated her upon her seemingly improved condition. They say she seemed more cheerful than she had been for some time.

Miss Evans retired Saturday night feeling badly. Judge Evans did not see her again until the body was found on the paving yesterday morning. The time when she arose is not known, but is presumed to have been shortly before the accident as she had not dressed for the morning.

The tragedy threw a pall over the residents of the fashionable Wessinger-Gaubert apartment. During the afternoon the Evans' suite was visited by scores of friends who called to express their grief over the calamity. Only a few intimate friends were admitted however, and of these, but a few saw Judge Evans personally.

Miss Evans was born in Louisville. She lived here all her life with the exception of about eight years which she spent in Washington, while her father served in Congress and as commissioner of internal revenue.

The funeral which is to be private, will be held at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon in the Evans' apartments.

The Rev. Edward L. Powell, pastor of First Christian church, of which Miss Evans was a member, will officiate.

The pallbearers are Dr. William Halley, Dr. Cuthbert Thompson, Geo. Brent, Dr. David Morlan, Allen Landis and James Buckner.

SKELETON FOUND IN ARMY CLOSET

Injustices of U. S. Military Service Sharply Criti- cised.

Washington, March 15.—The 111 seems to be off at the war department.

All sorts of unpleasant facts about the injustices and cruelties of our military system are leaking out.

The latest disclosure, following the Coffman and George cases, is that of Private Howard Johnson, formerly of Troop K, First Cavalry. The case bears anything so far disclosed. Private Johnson is serving a sentence of five years at hard labor in the Military Prison at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, after having been dishonorably discharged and forfeited all pay and allowances due him. It is almost unbelievable, but the offense charged against this soldier and of which the military court found him guilty, was that "having been ordered to decap fired shells," he "did throw away a number of the shells given him to decap."

For this crime he was charged with "conduct to the prejudice of good order and military discipline," and also of "disobedience of orders." In that "having received a lawful command from his superior officer, Second Lieutenant John F. Wall, to decap fired shells," he "did willfully disobey the same." This is what happens when a private offends a Second Lieutenant.

The other side of the system is shown up in the case of an offense of a Second Lieutenant against a private. Second Lieutenant John F. Brown, of the Philippine Scouts, was brought before a court martial at Fort Santiago, Manila, P. I., and charged with the following: "Openly and publicly maintaining improper and illicit relations with one Martha Camurino, a Filipino woman, the sister-in-law of Private Yabelo Beltran, Fourth Third Company, Philippine Scouts."

He was further charged with fraud in issuing worthless checks, with conduct to the prejudice of good order and military discipline in allowing forage animals under his charge to go without food for three weeks, and with embezzlement of United States funds. He was found guilty on all the charges, excepting certain words in the charges. His sentence was as follows: "To be dismissed from the service of the United States."

Private Johnson refused to decap some fired shells. Five years at hard labor in a military prison, dishonorable discharge, forfeiture of all pay and allowances.

Second Lieutenant Brown maintained improper relations with a soldier's sister-in-law, issued false checks, starved Government cattle, embezzled Government money: Dismissal from the service.

That is the kind of military "justice" which is making it hard for Uncle Sam to recruit men for military service, even with the offers full of unemployed and hungry men. That is why the army is manufacturing criminals, convicts, physical wrecks and undesirables.

Conditions in Mexico.

Bishop McConnell of the Methodist Episcopal Church has just returned from Mexico and has made a statement as to conditions there emphasizing the hopelessness of restoration of peace by the efforts of either Huerta or the constitutionalist leaders. He says that Huerta's military force must restrict its efforts to guarding the railways, which are the object of rebel attacks. In Mexico City and surrounding country there is no evidence of war, except the presence of the soldiers. The soldiers are undisciplined and apparently poorly disciplined. Their poor marksmanship is becoming a matter of proverb. Railway transportation has become a serious problem. The railway which has not suffered from dynamite is regarded as fortunate. One railway employee remarked to the bishop: "Our line is lucky. They merely shoot at our trains and do not blow us up with dynamite."

In the interior the depredations of bandits prowl the country, robbing and burning, without special hostility to any class of citizens or foreign residents, but actuated apparently by cupidity and sheer wantonness. Most of these raids happen at night, and, while the identity of the bandits may be surmised, there is no clear proof as to who they are. It is suspected that men who pose as laborers by day are bandits at night. In the Northern part of the country the identity of the bandits is not so much secret.

Bishop McConnell, while not expressing his own views of the outcome, says that he interviewed all classes of citizens and that they are generally hopeless of any solution of the problem locally. While suggestion of intervention by any foreign power would have horrified Mexican citizens a year ago, and while few of them would welcome such intervention now, the bishop says that they expect it as the only solution. When questioned as to whether they look for this intervention by the United States alone or by the United States in concert with European governments or with Latin-American countries, Mexican citizens shrug their shoulders and say, "Quien sabe?" The bishop says that while Huerta is regarded as a heavy drinker, Mexicans do not regard him as a drunkard and do not consider that he was an active participant in the assassination of Madero. They look upon Villa as an unprincipled bandit and Carranza as an impractical dreamer. The bishop's summary of the situation would indicate that the watchful waiting is not all on this side of the Rio Grande.—Globe Democrat.

VERDICT FOR BOTH DEFENDANTS

Miss Copeland And Turk Dis- charged By Jury at Mayfield.

Mayfield, Ky., March 16.—May Copeland and Lucien Turk secured their freedom this afternoon, when a jury returned a verdict of not guilty. Both parties have been on trial for several days on the charge of having murdered Hugh Atchison, a farmer of Carlisle county last July. This is the second trial of the case, the first resulting in a hung jury.

The deceased married May Copeland's sister. She claimed that he had outraged her on one occasion in a bathroom at his home. She had never revealed this fact under fear of death, as she says that he threatened her, and that he would assault her any time he wanted to.

On the night of the killing Turk and Miss Copeland drove to Atchison's home. Miss Copeland got out of the buggy and went into the house. Atchison again attempted to ravish the girl, when she pulled the pistol and shot him in the dark. Turk, who was in the buggy waiting for Miss Copeland, accompanied the young lady home, and he did not know of the shooting until the next day, when the officers came to arrest him in connection with the crime.

Banquets, Dinners and Longevity.

Dinner and social functions are a conspicuous feature of Washington life. The new Senator or Congressman always feels that he must keep up the pace, but their older colleagues do not hesitate to send in their regrets now and then. One Senator whose young daughters make severe demands upon him as an escort to official functions, announced the first of the year that he had adopted Speaker Champ Clark's resolution as follows:

"I have cut out all dinners and functions except those I feel under obligations to attend in my official capacity."

"I have done this for two reasons, first, because I have no time to attend them. I have too much to do. Second, Mr. Speaker, so long Librarian of Congress, once told me that most public men and army and navy officers who died in Washington 'dug their graves with their own teeth'—a saying which I have taken to heart."

PROHIBITION PUT TO SLEEP

Senate Kills Motion to Take Up Bill.

Roll Showing How Senators Voted Or Dodged the Measure.

Frankfort, Ky., Mar. 17.—St. Patrick's day will go down in history, as the final day of the memorable 1914 session of the Kentucky legislature. The last day, which is probably one of the most important days of the session, has packed the halls and galleries. Many important measures that are in the hands of the rules committee will never see daylight again. One of these is likely the statewide prohibition bill, which by a vote of 18 to 15 was left in the hands of the rules committee, when a motion was tabled, as made by Senator Frost, to suspend the rules and take the statewide bill out of the hands of the committee. Unless the rules committee calls the bill out, which is considered now a remote possibility, it will not likely come up again. It is believed the bill is permanently defeated.

On the roll call, the following senators voted to table the motion: Messrs. Asby, Bale, Boole, Bown, Clay, Coburn, Durham, Ford, Hall, Helm, Hildreth, Holman, Knight, Moore, Robertson, Sanders and Speer.

Those voting against the motion were: Messrs. Antle, Arnett, Frost, Glenn, Hiles, Montgomery, Moody, Porter, M. O. Scott, R. H. Scott, Tamm, Vincent, Welsh, Williams and Zimmerman.

Those not voting were: Marshall, Henderson county; Salmon, Hopkins county; Overstreet, Daviess county; Bagnby, Lewis county. The other member, J. W. Berkshire, of Boone county, died during the present session.

The motion of Senator Huffaker to consider the taxation bill by changing the method of classification of property in the state, section by section, was adopted. The discussion of taxation measures can be prolonged indefinitely.

Representative Webb rushed over to the senate to inform it of the house action on the above bill, but he had hardly reached the senate when Senator Frost's motion to bring up the statewide bill was tabled.

Free Soup in Camden.

Much to its regret the Post-Telegraph has had to chronicle the opening of a free soup house on the East Side. This is the first occasion since the memorable hard times of the Cleveland administration, we believe, that the necessity for public soup houses has been felt in Camden.

While under normal conditions the number of unemployed is greater at this season than at any other time of the year, there is unquestionably an abnormal dulness in the local labor market. It is the belief of many that this abnormal condition is due to the operation of the Wilson-Underwood Tariff and other Democratic legislation. But we cannot stop to argue this question while hunger stalks in our midst.

The duty of the moment is to relieve distress, provide food for the hungry and devise some sort of public relief work that will furnish employment to heads of families who now walk the streets in idleness and are compelled to eat the bread of charity.

The East Side soup house is a signal of distress. The problem of the poor and the unemployed calls for immediate attention. Later the voters may call to account the party that has brought this distressing condition upon the country.—Camden (N. J.) Post-Telegraph.

Splendors of World's Greatest Exposition Revealed by Present Marvels

Conclave of Nations Unsurpassed in History at San Francisco in 1915

MARVELOUS PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION WILL OPEN UPON A COMPLETED ASSEMBLAGE OF THE TREASURES OF THE WORLD'S ARTS, SCIENCES AND INDUSTRIES

A conclave of nations unsurpassed in the history of the world will assemble at San Francisco when the marvelous Panama-Pacific International exposition opens on February 20, 1915.

Today, the Panama-Pacific International exposition overshadows and eclipses any commemorative and instructive exhibition in history. Progress in all phases of this most brilliant and comprehensive of world's celebrations visualizes the exposition as it will appear when the exhibits of the world are installed within its spacious halls, when hundreds of thousands of rare trees, plants and shrubs brought from far corners of the globe have transformed the grounds into a semitropical paradise and when from the Golden Gate the traveler will behold the vast Exposition city rising to great heights against the walls of the encircling amphitheater of the hills of San Francisco.

In the assured participation of the foreign nations and of the commercial and industrial interests of the world the Panama-Pacific International exposition stands alone among the great expositions of the past.

As a tribute to America's heroic task in the completion of the Panama canal 33 of the world's great nations have formally accepted the invitation of the president to take part in the celebration and are now engaged in preparing magnificent displays, which will illustrate their progress in every line of social and industrial activity. The Argentine leads with a government appropriation of $1,500,000 (gold), and in its magnificent pavilion will be presented the wonders of that far-away land. Canada will expend $600,000; Japan, $600,000; China, $800,000; Turkey, $300,000, and in the Turkish pavilion will be shown the rarest and costliest treasures of the Ottoman empire. New Zealand and Australia will make tremendous displays. Fifteen hundred manufacturers in Germany will make a collective exhibit, to be shown in a great German building; 600 manufacturers from England will present a combined exhibit.

More than 500,000 accredited delegates from all parts of the globe will attend a series of great international conventions and congresses to be held at San Francisco during the exposition. Among the congresses will be the great International Engineering congress, of which Col. George W. Goethals, builder of the Panama canal, is chairman.

Thousands of visitors from all parts of the globe are planning to see the great exposition at San Francisco in 1915, and wonderful preparations are being made to transport and to care for them.

The howdah upon the elephant will be 188 feet above the floors of the court; the group itself will be 42 feet in height. This huge arch, breathing the spirit of the Orient, will be upon the east side of the great Central court, the Court of the Sun and Stars. Upon the west side of the court will be an arch typifying Occidental civilization.

WONDERFUL PALACE OF HORTICULTURE

The superb Palace of Horticulture at the Panama-Pacific International exposition in San Francisco in 1915 will be surmounted by a vast dome of glass, supported with immense steel trusses. The dome will be 185 feet in height and 152 feet in diameter. At night batteries of colored searchlights will play on the inside of the dome from within the building, so that it will present the appearance of a gigantic soap bubble continuously changing to every color of the rainbow.

When the sculptors at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition began their work they had as an inspiration a task which has appealed to the imagination of the world for centuries, the cutting of the barrier between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans in the Panama canal, and so they have reproduced in the sculpture figures of the early explorers, pirates, the adventurers of the seas, the pioneers, pathfinders. In May, 1915, the Panama-Pacific International exposition at San Francisco will be the gathering place of the most expert aeronauts from all the civilized nations of the globe, when the start is made of the great aerial race-around-the-world for a prize of $300,000, the largest sum ever offered for any single sporting event in history. Every description of motor-driven air craft will participate in this stupendous loop-the-loop around the globe. The race will represent the climax of all the world's aeronautical activities and will stand for all time as an immortal epic of human daring, human ingenuity, and the marvelous epitome of the progress of mankind. It will be the supreme adventure of our day. As an achievement, it will mark a historic cycle that will compare with the crossing of the Atlantic by Columbus and the circumnavigation of the world by the fleet of Magellan in 1522. Aviators have long discussed the project of round-the-world aeroplane tours.

The first time an aeroplane ever flew inside a building was when Lincoln Beachey, the famous aviator, flew in the huge Palace of Machinery on the grounds of the Panama-Pacific International exposition to open in San Francisco on February 29, 1915. The Palace of Machinery is almost 1,000 feet long and 136 feet high. Beachey passed from one end to the other of the building, flying for more than 200 feet and at height of 60 feet. The most remarkable feature of the flight was that he had to steer a straight course down the center aisle, which is 75 feet in width.

FRIDAY, MARCH 20.

Beckham flayed Stanley at Elizabethtown Monday. Let the good work go on.

A president of the United States can give away his daughters much more rapidly than a college president.

The man in Kentucky who does not like politics is going to get a big dose of what he does not like in the next two years.

In case of intervention in Mexico no pantoon bridges would be necessary to cross the Rio Grande river. In most places one can wade it.

President Wilson don't forget the smallest details politically. He didn't play a "waiting game" in the Democratic liberties, Villas, Carranzas, etc., revolutionists down in Tennessee. He spoke right out in meeting.

State taxes will be raised from 50 cents on the hundred dollars worth of property to 55 cents by the passage of the bill providing State aid for roads. Seems to us this fund could have been provided without raising taxes, if certain needless offices had been abolished and rigid economy observed by the legislature.

Wonder who Gov. Beckham meant by this paragraph in his speech at Elizabethtown Monday:

"Other voters are sometimes persuaded to support a man because of the fact that he has never had any positive convictions upon any debatable or disputed public question, who cautiously avoids giving expression to his opinions upon such questions, until after it is apparent upon which side there is a majority, and who then loudly proclaims himself to have always been on that side."

THE LEGISLATURE.

The Kentucky legislature adjourned Tuesday night after sixty days of wrangling and it will always be remembered more for what it failed to do than for its accomplishments. During the session often charges were hurled backward and forth among the members and at one time the House organization was challenged by a Democratic member as having been brought about by prominent lobbyists. None of the charges were ever pursued far enough to strike "any dirt," although several pretenses were made always to stop when it looked like some great scandal might be unearthed. Unless we are very much mistaken some vicious laws have been enacted and some very deserving ones defeated. The new insurance measure is a doubtful experiment. No tax laws were changed, except to provide an increase in the rate for road purposes and this may simply mean the placing of more money in the hands of our present bunglesome road commission to be frittered away in salaries for new jobs. No provision for our "minutiae and fast growing" state debt. Temperance was given a black eye in the defeat of statewide prohibition, by refusing to submit that question to a vote of the people. One of the good things which was accomplished, to our mind was the defeat of the woman's suffrage amendment. We give credit for the passage of a workmen's compensation law, although we have not seen the bill itself and cannot say how effective it may be. The two amendments to the constitution, voted upon and carried last year, are again submitted. No changes were made in the game and fish law. The Governor has declared he will not call an extra session to remedy the failure to provide for increased revenues.

BECKHAM ON STANLEY.

In his opening speech at Elizabethtown Monday Beckham made the following salty reference to the well known salty reference to the well known on the saloon question:

"He boasts, too, of his long warfare upon the Tobacco Trust, and yet neither he nor his most ardent friend can point to a single act of his that has ever brought the slightest substantial relief to the tobacco grower, or to the people, from the wrongs perpetrated by that trust."

"Inflammatory and incendiary speeches are the only remedies he has ever given for those evils, and it is a fact, that the only weapon the tobacco growers of Kentucky have been able to use successfully in a contest with that trust, was the act of the General Assembly of 1906, legalizing the pooling of their crops, and that measure was passed with my active assistance, and was signed by me while I was Governor. Neither had that trust any political strength in Kentucky, and it was certainly not to be feared by a candidate for Congress in the Second district of the State."

"But there is a trust in Kentucky whose political power extends like a pall over the entire State, and holds in its strong grasp many politicians who dare not provoke its enmity or wrath. Its pernicious activity has appeared in nearly every primary, convention and legislative assembly held in Kentucky for many years."

"It has sought to dominate the politics of the State in every particular, and it has sought to prevent any limitation upon its market or any restriction upon its business. It has sought to establish saloons in every county, city and hamlet in the Commonwealth. It has put its blight upon more homes, it has wrecked more human lives, and filled more untimely graves, than have all other trusts combined. It rewards those who serve it and punishes those who oppose it."

"It never ceases in its efforts to control the Legislatures, the courts and the executive officers of the State. It demands that it shall have the Senators, and as many as possible of the Congressmen, from this State, in the Federal Congress. The Steel Trust has never exercised more power in Pennsylvania than has the Liquor Trust in Kentucky; and no man ever wore the collar of the Steel Trust more slavishly in that State, than Stanley has done for the Liquor Trust in this State."

"A few of the many well-known instances of his services to that trust will show that I am not misrepresenting him or his record. In August, 1911, a Democratic State Convention was held in Louisville, to prepare a platform upon which the Democratic nominees for State officers should stand before the people in the campaign of that year. The chief issue in that convention was whether or not a county-unit plank should be placed in the platform."

"The liquor forces mustered their full strength against the plank; and among the most active leaders on their side was Mr. Stanley, working for them to the full extent of his influence in the front to keep that plank out. When the question came to a vote in the convention on a roll-call, he boastfully cast the votes of Henderson county against the county-unit plank."

"His service to the trust was more devoted than his service to the party or to the State; for intelligent observers know that, without that plank in the platform our State ticket would have had little chance to succeed in the November election. He, of course, defended his position upon the ground that the law would be unconstitutional."

"That is always the last argument made by a trust advocate in a fight against a reform measure. The Court of Appeals had said that the law was constitutional, notwithstanding his opinion."

IS A PROTECTIONIST? THE REASON WHY

The Claim that Tariff Reduction to a Free-Trade Basis Would Hurt Business Has Been Verified.

We are a Republican, among other good reasons, for the principle of Protection. The principle of Protection amounts to the theory of buying at home. The claptrap vote-catching proposition that reduced the Tariff would lower the cost of living has been exploded. The Republican claim that Tariff reduction would hurt business, destroy labor and demoralize manufacturing has been verified. Our mills and factories are shutting down, while European factories are being enlarged. Our garment workers are walking the streets of our cities, while foreign manufacturers are dumping into this country, at the port of New York alone, $5,000,000 worth a week. Our iron and steel industries are closing. The beet sugar factories are closing everywhere.

Twenty-five million pounds of meat have come in free from Australia, and your soup bone costs you more. Clothing is not reduced, the home manufacturer has seen his markets legislated away from him, and the importer takes the margin.

The cities are filled with the hungry and unemployed. New York alone having more than 300,000. The rant of the reformer nor the cant of the inquisitor will not change the condition now confronting the nation. The hosts at Washington claim the present Tariff bill was patterned after the Walker bills of 1816 and 1857. Under its operation President Buchanan sent a message to Congress, saying:

"With unsurpassed plenty in all the productions and all the elements of natural wealth, our manufacturers have suspended, our public works are retarded, our private enterprises of different kinds are abandoned, and thousands of useful laborers are thrown out of employment and reduced to want."

We are not a prophet nor the son of a prophet, but it is probable that history will vividly repeat itself in the present situation.

News of the Sports.

(By Al.)

The Beaver Dam basketball team defeated Greenville in one of the fastest games ever played in that city Saturday night by the score of 27 to 17. The game while fast was at times rough and a fighting spirit was displayed by both teams throughout the game. This is the second game between these two teams this season, the first having been won by Greenville. Several Hartford people witnessed the game and were well pleased with the exhibition.

Who scared the ground hog?

The robins were getting so thick that we didn't notice them anymore, but ah, this snow!

C. Burton, star catcher on R. R. Riley's team, is the guest of W. P. Midkiff, city.

W. S. Tinsley and E. M. Woodward have returned from Louisville where, it is reported, they met Chas. P. Taft and made an offer for the Chicago Cubs. The deal failed to go thru but another effort will be made later. It is said that in case Tinsley and Woodward should become owners of the Cubs the franchise will be transferred to Hartford.

Two of the latest to announce their candidacy for the team this spring are J. T. Moore and Ike Sanderfur. We don't approve of this because if Ike plays it would be impossible to keep Heg out of the line-up and the two together would finally break up the team.

The loss of Outfielder Marks leaves a gap that will be a puzzle to fill. He is undoubtedly one of the most valuable amateurs in this neck of the woods. He could always be found putting forth his best efforts for the good of the team and his stream of talk added pep to the whole bunch. There is a slight chance of his coming back if he doesn't locate in Cuba, and should he do so he may be assured of a hearty welcome by local fans.

McHenry may have a team this year and it is our earnest desire that they will. It is said that Reynolds, the 1911 pitcher, may be back and with Thorpe to do the receiving stunt a good backbone for a team would be formed. Harrisburg has withdrawn from the Kitty League so it is our guess that Thorpe will be with his home team. Hartford and McHenry always get along well together and have had many great battles in the past.

The Republican is in receipt of a letter from Prof. A. E. Ellis, Washington, D. C., in which he requests us to extend thanks to his friends in Ohio county for all the acts of kindness to him and expressing regret that he was compelled to leave so early and was thereby denied an opportunity to say good bye.

The series of meetings conducted at the court house closed last Sunday night. There were about 15 conversions and 12 additions to the church. Rev. Lyons captivated our people and did much good through his able and spiritual sermons. The music was led by Mr. W. J. Bean and the choir, composed entirely of home talent, did faithful and satisfactory service. Much good was accomplished for the town. We understand a meeting is to begin at the Baptist church next Sunday conducted by the pastor, Rev. Pettie.

Among the civic improvements suggested for Hartford is the picking of the street from the railroad to the cemetery, and also building macadamized driveways through the cemetery. The cemetery fund now amounts to $800 and we understand that the city council is favorable to a proposition of this kind, provided the citizens will give a little assistance in the way of donations. This should be done by all means. Sometimes it is almost impossible for conveyances to reach Oakwood through that part of the street which is not improved, and when the ground is soft the driveways are almost impassable.

SEVEN COUNTIES ARE REPRESENTED

Meeting of Consolidated Tobacco Growers at Owensboro.

A campaign will be inaugurated at once by the Consolidated Tobacco Growers' association, looking to a reduction of the acreage in this district. This action was taken at a district meeting, held at the city hall on Wednesday afternoon. Delegates were in attendance from Grayson, Hancock and Breckenridge counties, in addition to those from Daviess, Meigs, Ohio and Muhlenberg counties. Bradley Wilson, organizer of the Consolidated, presided at the meeting.

The delegates reviewed the conditions in the district, and spoke encouragingly of the future prospects of the organization. A resolution was unanimously adopted, limiting the acreage to 10,000 hills to the hand and 5,000 hills to the half hand. The other tobacco organizations in the district were requested to take similar action.

A resolution was adopted calling on the organization to dispense with the services of R. M. Thompson and E. B. McEuen, who have assisted in collecting the one per cent from the Consolidated growers who deliver to the loose leaf house, and in the future that this work will be left to Sales Manager Holson and Secretary Tompkins. In case of an unusual rush they will be permitted to call in assistants.

A report was read to the effect that 1,500,000 pounds of Consolidated tobacco had been sold at the loose leaf floor of the Owensboro Warehouse company, in West Ninth street, at an average of $7.79. This was considered by the delegates to be a splendid average. The average for Consolidated tobacco at the Lancaster loose leaf floor will be announced as soon as it is prepared.

At the meetings to be conducted by Bradley Wilson in an effort to get the growers to reduce the acreage, there will be no pooling pledges circulated, and the meetings will be open to the public.

It was announced that within the next thirty days a rally meeting will be held in Owensboro, and members on the organization from all over the district will be invited to be present.—Owensboro Messenger.

ONE BED FOR THE COURT.

It Was a Big One, Though, and Held All Its Numerous Members.

The first courthouse of Henry county, Ill., was a frame structure, eight feet by fourteen, set in the midst of an unimproved prairie. But as little villages began to spring up in the county a lively contention for the honor of being the county seat began. Cambridge finally won, for it was nearest the center of the county.

This was in the forties of the last century. The first session of circuit court was at hand and Cambridge was on its mettle to entertain the court suitably. The difficulties to anything but pioneer courage and resourcefulness would have seemed insuperable. The village consisted of eight or ten little dwellings, a dry general store, a blacksmith shop and a carpenter shop. The new courthouse was unfinished, but would be used, as the session fortunately fell in the summer.

Now the housewives laid their heads together to contrive how the court—officials, litigants and witnesses—should be lodged and fed. There was almost nothing that could be bought, except sugar, molasses, tea, coffee and flour. But they had an abundant supply of yellow-legged chickens, home cured hams, milk, eggs, butter and cream, as well as their vegetable gardens to draw on. There was no fresh fruit, but they brought out their cherished stores of wild plum marmalade and wild crabapple preserves. Both were made with molasses, and after they had sufficient time to season were really delicious. Besides, the hillsides were pink with the beautiful wild-rose sorrel, the leaves of which make delicious pies in skillful hands.

The village boasted one group of forest trees, a small grove of sugar maples, half a mile away, and in their shade Mr. Atwater built a long table with sawhorses and boards. With the combined stock of table linen, crockery and cutlery possessed by the housewives the table was laid with sufficient elegance, according to pioneer standards. It was felt that the court would be properly feasted, but how about lodging? That was the real difficulty. The tiny houses and their beds were full to overflowing with their proper inmates.

But there was the loft of the carpenter shop. The store had a whole bolt of unbleached muslin. It was torn into lengths equal to the length of the loft and sewed together by hand, of course.

Then the loft floor was covered deep with pine clean shavings, the immense sheet laid over them and tacked to the walls all the way round. On this brooding-nagian bed the court lay in two rows. From the extra supply required for winter enough quilts were mustered to cover the sleepers. As for pillows no one gave a thought to those effeminate luxuries. The lawyers might lay their heads on their saddlebags or their rolled up coats and be thankful.

Thus was the circuit court sumptuously fed and sufficiently lodged, thanks to the ingenious women of Henry county.—Youth's Companion.

Might as Well Have Seen Him.
Awakening with a bad headache the morning after a banquet, a suburban dentist mused, not unpleasantly, on his last evening's spree. But suddenly his wife appeared and, advancing to his bedside, shouted hysterically:
"You wretch! What will the neighbors say at your coming home drunk last night?"
"But, my dear, nobody saw me," the dentist protested.

A Useful Vanderbilt.

The death of George W. Vanderbilt from appendicitis excites melancholy and sympathetic interest in the south.

Mr. Vanderbilt was the first New Yorker after the war who appreciated the beauties of the mountains of Virginia, North Carolina and Tennessee.

The itch for accumulation was not in his blood and he was content with the handsome fortune left him by his father.

When quite a young man he went to Asheville and began to purchase land. He made Blount, and it is one of the show places of the United States.

Mr. Vanderbilt was a fine force in the mountains of Western North Carolina. He won the respect of the mountaineers and the prominent citizens of the low country.

The fashionable places of the world did not see much of Mr. Vanderbilt, but he was active in many good things. He contributed to the establishment of circulating libraries and he was a patron of fine arts.

He used his fortune for developing the natural beauty of nature and for encouragement of literature and art. Money spent in this way has a far-reaching effect in taking the dross out of our civilization.

Did you know that Calumet is Mercury, and that its mercurious effects will ruin the system, while Grigsby's Liv-Ver-Lax is purely vegetable, and can be used with perfect safety? Ask J. H. Williams, Hartford, Ky. 1D2y

The New York Sun has compiled a list by trades and occupations of the unemployed men in greater New York, and on February 2, there were 331,650. There are also fully 100,000 women out of employment in that city, according to the statement of the women at the head of the women wage-earners. The bread lines served have to start at one o'clock in the morning in order to supply the hungry by noon. Oh, the days of Cleveland have returned, and the Coxey army is about "to arrive." As they voted so are they reaping—as well as some others. Pueblo (Col.) Opinion.

Grigsby's Liv-Ver-Lax, that delicious liver syrup, has displaced calomel in nearly every home. Good for grown-ups and children alike. Ask J. H. Williams, Hartford, Ky. 1D2y

Thirteen Mistakes of Life.

Here are what Presiding Judge Paul J. McCormick has announced as "Thirteen Mistakes of Life."

To attempt to set up your own standard of right and wrong.

To try and measure the enjoyment of others by your own.

To expect uniformity of opinion in this world.

To fail to make allowance for inexperience.

To endeavor to mold all dissensions along.

To not yield in unimportant trifles.

To look for perfection in our own actions.

To worry ourselves and others about what can not be remedied.

Not to help everybody, wherever, however and whenever we can.

To consider anything impossible that we can not ourselves perform.

To believe only what our false minds can grasp.

Not to make allowance for the weaknesses of others.

To estimate by some outside quality, when it is that within which makes the man.—San Francisco Cor. Philadelphia Ledger.

WHY FIRE INSURANCE QUIT KENTUCKY

Business Suspended Because of the Enactment of the Glenn-Greene Law.

Nearly all the fire insurance companies doing business in Kentucky have stopped accepting risks in that state because of the passage of the Glenn-Greene bill, a statement of their reasons for taking this step was made by the companies, in notifying their agents to stop writing policies. The companies, in notifying their agents to stop writing policies, declare that they suspend business with regret, realizing the effect of such action upon their agents and the business interests, but that in view of the drastic provisions of the new law and the hostile attitude of the State Insurance Board they cannot continue to do business with either safety or profit. As soon as conditions are made safe for them they will be glad to resume.

The insurance business has not been profitable in Kentucky even under former conditions. The loss ratio of all the stock companies for 1912 was 47 per cent, and although the official figures for 1913 are not yet available, the record was even worse. As the expense ratio in Kentucky is over 40 per cent, that means that for every dollar taken in the fire insurance companies have paid out nearly 50 cents. Most of the expense money in Kentucky in the shape of commissions to agents, salaries and expenses of field men, taxes, etc., has been paid to the new law, has increased the expense ratio and has made it impossible for the companies to do business. The State Insurance Board, appointed by the State Auditor, to maintain the insurance companies have been paid $25,000 a year to be paid under the new law, has increased the expense ratio to 40 per cent, and has made it impossible for the companies to do business. The State Insurance Board, appointed by the State Auditor, to maintain the insurance companies have been paid $25,000 a year to be paid under the new law, has increased the expense ratio to 40 per cent, and has made it impossible for the companies to do business.

to make a flat percentage decrease in rates on any class of business, at any time, and in such an amount as it may decide upon. The only changes in rates which are popular with voters are reductions. How would the business man who reads this like to have the price of his product fixed for him by a political board, with no interest in the amount of loss it may inflict upon him, in view of the general demand for a reduction in the cost of living? If the price of fire insurance protection is to be fixed by a political board, why not the price of sugar and calico and any other product? Kentucky business men should know that this entering wedge of socialism will not stop with fire insurance.

The law authorizes the State Insurance Board to increase its staff of employees at the expense of the insurance companies, to require the companies to turn over to it their tariffs, inspection reports and any other information regarding rates, and gives it other enlarged powers which will increase the cost of doing business and diminish its returns. This measure was imposed upon the insurance companies in spite of the fact that they have been losing money on their Kentucky business, and of their statement that if it was passed they would be compelled to suspend. It carries severe penalties, and rather than run the risk of these, furnish insurance at a loss and surrender the principle of business freedom, they are forced to stop business until it is made possible for them to resume with safety.

More Rights for Women.

While the demands of women are meeting with but cold consideration in England, their advance in this country is steadily forward. Another gateway to the much desired "new freedom" was opened last week by the United States Supreme Court, the highest tribunal in this land.

The court has without a dissenting opinion held that a wife may maintain a separate domicile or residence from that of her husband, whenever it is necessary for her to bring suit to protect her rights against him or any other person.

It has always been held that the husband is the head of the household and that the wife could not conduct a separate establishment unless separated from her husband. Here the court holds that a wife may not be independent of her husband when her personal interests are involved.

The Colorado Supreme Court held in February that a wife had a perfect right to draw upon her husband's funds in whatever bank he held them deposited. This decision attracted much attention. A Denver wife signed her husband's name to a check for a small amount, presented it at the bank, the check was cashed, and the husband, who must have been a mean sort of a man, sought to have his wife indicted for forgery. Just to teach her a lesson, he later explained.

He was right. This action not only taught his wife a lesson but every other wife in Colorado whose husband had a bank account. The ruling of the high court that a wife could not forge her husband's name and has the same right that he has of drawing against his bank account, threw wide open another gate.

The decision of the United States Supreme Court last week settles another vexed problem. The general principle that the law will not recognize a different home for a wife than that of her husband is swept aside. By slow degrees but surely the courts of this country are clearing from the law the archaic sophistry which has for centuries persisted in regarding a wife as a strangely different, so far as concerns her individuality, from other human beings. But when the highest court in the land finally overrules precedents observed generation after generation, with the remark that "fiction" set up by the term "feme covert," or woman hidden behind her husband, "is vanishing," then the event is of noteworthy importance to woman's world.

For centuries a married woman has been little more than a shadow, legally, of her lord and master, having virtually no rights and no obligations as a separate entity. The world is waking up and woman is something more now than her husband's shadow.

If They Should Ever Think.

Complaints of bad business and heavy losses are very general among New York theatrical managers. Not since the previous Tariff "reform" period of 1894-'97 has business been so bad. But there are now many times the number of theatrical enterprises and many times the capital invested in them as compared with 20 years ago. We don't know whether there are any Protectionists among the big amusement producers. If there are, we never hear about it. But one would think that the present serious state of the theatrical business would set them to thinking a little about cause and effect. And if they ever do get to thinking every one of them will turn Protectionist.
